THE NEWPORT MERCURY was established in June, 1858, and is now in its one hundred and thirty-fifth year. It is the oldest newspaper in the United States, and with few exceptions, the oldest printed in the English language. It is a large quarto weekly of fifty-six columns, filled with interesting reading—editorial, state, local and general news, well selected miscellany and valuable farmers' and household departments. It is the only paper in the city which is published every day, and its circulation is the largest of any paper in the city. It is published at the rate of $2.00 a year in advance. Single copies are sold at 5 cents. Extra copies can always be obtained at the office of publication and at the various news rooms in the city. Local Matters.

Polo Cup Matches.

The polo tournament opened at the Westchester Club grounds Thursday afternoon, and though rain was falling during most of the play, the game was one of the best ever witnessed here. The contesting teams were as follows: Independence Westchesters—Thomas Hitebeck, Jr., captain; Benj. Nichol, back; E. O. Potter, G. L. Day. Rockaways—Foxhall Keene, captain; W. K. Thorn, back; J. E. Cowdin, L. J. Franke. The game was won by the Independence team by a score of 8 to 4. The second game in the tournament was played yesterday afternoon between the Myopians and the Westchester Newporters, and is still undecided as we go to press.

District Court.

Eight of the Tiverton liquor cases were before the District Court yesterday and their trial occupied most of the day. J. N. Dean pleaded guilty to two complaints and was sentenced to $10 fine and 20 days' imprisonment on each. The others stood trial and upon being adjudged probably guilty appeared and were released on bail. John Prew, charged with the larceny of a check for $40, was adjudged probably guilty and in default of $500 bail was committed to jail to await the action of the grand jury next month.

The Relief Society of the Shiloh Baptist church will observe their fifth anniversary with an entertainment at Masonic Temple next Thursday evening. The programme will include choruses, quartettes, duets and solos, readings and stereoscopic views, committee reports and refreshments. This society has done much for the church with which it is connected and its entertainment should have a large attendance.

The new torpedo boat Ericsson, a sister craft to the Cushing, which is now under process of construction at Dubuque, Iowa, will probably be ready for launching some time this month. This is the second boat built for the navy and her dimensions and general features are: Length 150 feet; beam, extreme, 15.62 feet; beam at low water line, 15.5 feet; normal draft amidships, 4.75 feet; normal displacement 120 tons.

Dr. W. C. Stoddard and Mrs. Stoddard left Thursday night for Chicago. After a couple of weeks' visit at the Fair, they will return via Niagara and proceed direct to the White Mountains for their usual September outing.

John J. Murphy has been fined $20 for giving a musical entertainment without a license.

Mr. Herbert Lawton of Stamford, Conn., is visiting his uncle, Col. Wm. J. Cozzens in this city.

Sculptor Noble, of Cambridge, has been in town this week.

Mrs. John Swinburne has returned from a two weeks' visit to Bristol.

Lantern Parade.

The lantern parade, which was given Wednesday evening under the auspices of the Aquidneck Cycle Club, presented a very pretty picture, the decorations of the wheels and costumes of the riders displaying much originality and ranging from the truly artistic to the ludicrous. The first prize, a bicycle suit, given by the One Price Clothing Co., was awarded to Mr. H. Laurens Peckham, who was dressed as a ballet dancer and had a tall pole surmounted by a Japanese umbrella and supporting yard arms, globular lanterns being suspended from the umbrella and ends of the arms. The second prize, a pair of bicycle shoes from Mr. T. M. Seabury, was won by Mr. W. J. Vars, who wore a handsome suit of yellow and white, with wheel trimmings to match. The third prize, a bicycle lantern by Capt. H. L. Peckham of the Aquidneck Cycle Club, was won by Mr. George Parrott, who was dressed as a colored dandy and had his wheel trimmed with lanterns and ribbons. There were many others who were deserving of mention and it is hoped that there will be another parade of a similar character, when more prizes will be offered.

Runaway Accident.

Newport had quite a serious runaway Tuesday morning. Capt. and Mrs. C. B. Sears, who are spending the season at Jamestown, were driving up Bellevue avenue in a dog cart and when near Kay street the horse took fright and dashed down Town street. The cart was capsize and the occupants were thrown against the fence in front of Mr. R. M. Hunt's. Capt. Sears sustained a fracture to his left arm and several wounds about the head and body and Mrs. Sears received an ugly scalp wound. They were taken to Dr. Curley's office for immediate treatment and subsequently conveyed to Jamestown in the city ambulance.

The runaway horse crashed through the doors of No. 5 engine house where he was secured.

Capt. and Mrs. Sears are reported as getting along as well as could be expected under the circumstances, neither having received fatal injuries.

The Newport Horticultural Society will hold its annual picnic and clam-bake at Southwick's Grove on Wednesday, September 6, and the committee who have the affair in charge will spare no pains to make it a grand success. The Newport orchestra has been engaged to furnish music, and base ball and athletic sports will be among the attractions. The clam-bake will be served at 1 o'clock and the picnic from 2 to 3 o'clock in the afternoon and will be prepared by "Jim" Phillips. Buses will be provided to carry out all who wish to attend. Should the day be stormy the picnic will be postponed to the next fair day.

Mrs. Abby Newton, widow of the late Simon Newton, died at her home on Mary street on Saturday last week after a brief illness. Mrs. Newton was in the 60th year of her age and was, up to the time of her death, in full possession of her faculties. She was a most estimable lady and will be missed by a large circle of friends. She was attended during her final illness by the wife and daughter of her stepson, Mr. Thos. P. Newton of New York.

Thursday evening while Mrs. George Hoffman, who is visiting her father, Mr. John W. Ellis, on Bellevue avenue, was at dinner, a second-story thief entered her room and made a clean sweep of everything of value that could be carried away. The police were notified as soon as the robbery was discovered and they and Detective Richards are now at work upon the case.

Shiloh Baptist church Sunday notice—At 10:30 A. M., preaching, subject, "The Word of Man's Obedience," at 8:30 P. M. Rev. J. O. Johnson, pastor of the Congdon Street Baptist church of Providence, will preach, and a special collection will be taken to help liquidate the debt on said church.

Thomas Heister, a colored seaman on revenue cutter Dexter, was killed at the New Haven wharf on Sunday. He had stolen a ride from New York on the mail train and, in attempting to jump off, fell under the wheels and was instantly killed and his body horribly mangled.

Daniel Boone, son of Mr. William H. Boone, fell overboard from a fish boat at Bowen's wharf last Saturday afternoon, but was rescued by Mr. Noah Thompson, Jr., with no other damage than a thorough wetting.

Mr. R. L. Tilley, of Gardner, Mass., returned to his home Thursday after a couple of weeks' visit with his son, Mr. John T. Tilley, on Clinton avenue, this city.

Rev. Dr. Smith, who has been visiting his sister, Mrs. John A. Pinard, in this city, returned to his home in Hudson, N. Y., on Monday.

Mrs. A. C. Titus gave a dancing party at Newton's Hall Thursday evening.

Master G. Bryer, of Westerly, is visiting friends here.

THE YACHTS.

They return to Newport after having been in the Vineyard and New Bedford—The "Aster Fleet" to Disband Today. Owing to the unfavorable condition of the weather the departure of the yachts for the Vineyard, which was to have taken place last Saturday, was postponed until Monday, and for the first time in many years the fleet spent a Sabbath in Newport harbor. During Sunday afternoon all the yachts were in their usual Sunday dress of small flags, etc., presenting a beautiful scene that attracted thousands of spectators. The yachtsmen were astir at an early hour Monday morning getting ready for the start to the Vineyard and when at 11 o'clock the preparatory gun was fired from the May everything was in readiness.

The start was made shortly after, under a strong breeze from the northward, with everybody in excellent spirits. The run, which proved one of the best of the cruise, was led from start to finish by the Vigilant, closely followed by the other cup defenders. The Constellation, followed by the Ramona and the Dauntless, led the schooners.

Monday night was spent at the Vineyard and Tuesday morning the fleet was early underway for New Bedford. This was a run to windward and, under a good racing breeze, proved highly satisfactory.

The Constellation and Jubilee were not in this run, however, they having got excused, proceeding direct to Newport where they arrived in the order named, about 5 o'clock.

The fleet was led by the Vigilant, as was to be expected, and the Constellation and Volunteer won in their respective classes. After the arrival of the fleet at New Bedford Tuesday, a reception was held on board flagship May, which was attended by nearly all the yachtsmen of the fleet. It was an informal affair and was for the purpose of presenting to ex-Commodore Gerry the cup voted him by the New York Yacht Club, as a token of its appreciation of his services during the years in which he was commodore. The cup was presented in a short speech by Commodore Morgan, and Mr. Gerry responded. In the evening the members of the New Bedford Yacht Club gave a reception to the visitors in their handsome club house, which was tastefully decorated and illuminated.

The run from New Bedford to Newport, the last of the cruise, was made Wednesday under varying conditions of weather. It was finished just before 2 o'clock and the fleet immediately sought anchorage in Newport Harbor, where preparations for the first of the Astor cup races on Thursday were begun on all boats entered for the contest. This race, which was from an imaginary line between Brenton's reef lightship and flagship May, fifteen miles to windward and return, was one of the best witnessed here for a long time. There was a stiff breeze blowing from south, southeast which carried the winning boat over the course in 4 hours, 2 minutes and 52 seconds. The Vigilant was an easy winner, and her conduct, both with and against the wind, was such as to strengthen everybody's belief that she will be the proud defender of the America cup and that that cup will remain here. The summary of the race was as follows, the Pilgrim early dropping out of the race disabled:

Name	Start	Finish	Elapsed Time
Vigilant	11:28:19	3:39:41	4:02:22
Jubilee	11:33:21	3:43:34	4:08:13
Constellation	11:35:02	3:44:19	4:09:17
Pilgrim	11:35:26	no finish taken.

The annual tournament of the National Lawn Tennis Association opens at the Casino next Tuesday and the tennis courts have been put in thorough order for that event. The prizes are very elegant affairs and everything points to making this the most interesting and successful tournament in the history of the Association. The entries will be announced some time today.

Notes—The Golet cups were formally presented to the winners, Capt. John E. Brooks of schooner Loxa and Capt. Archibald Rogers of sloop Colonia—at Martha's Vineyard Monday evening. It is expected that the New York Yacht Club fleet will be disbanded here today.

Lord Dunsraver owner of the Valkyrie, having expressed a wish that the contest for the America cup might be held earlier than October 5, there is a strong probability that the date will be changed to September 28.

The annual sale for the benefit of the St. Columba's Chapel Guild will be held on Thursday afternoon and evening, August 24, 1893, at the house of Rev. John C. Huntington, Indian Avenue, Middletown. The sale will open at 4 o'clock, there will be music in the evening and a supper will be served. In case of rain the fair will be postponed until Friday.

Mr. Michael Cottrell, whose critical illness was mentioned last week, is still alive but with no hope of improvement. He has been unconscious since Thursday morning.

Miss Gilliat, sister of Rev. C. G. Gilliat, is visiting Mrs. H. Allen Wright.

The Navahoe's New Skipper.

The poor showing of the Navahoe in her race with the English yachts has led her owner, Mr. Royal Phelps Carroll, to change her skipper. Capt. Aubrey Crocker, who has been an active spirit aboard the Jubilee in her recent run with the New York Yacht Club, is the skipper selected to succeed Capt. Barr and he sailed on the Majestic Wednesday from New York.

For many years Capt. Crocker has been sailing master of Dr. Bryant's famous racing sloop Shadow, but his fame as a yachting skipper arises principally from the success of the cup defender Popitan in the races for the America's cup in 1885. Popitan first brought Burgess fame, and was owned by an Eastern syndicate, of which J. Malcolm Forbes and Charles J. Payne were leading members. At the helm of the Genesee, which made such a gallant struggle for the trophy at that time, was Capt. Carter, who now commands Dunsraver's Valkyrie. Capt. Crocker demonstrated during the preliminary and final races of Popitan his excellent qualities of seamanship and tact, which have recommended him to Mr. Carroll as a successor to Capt. Charles Barr and Capt. Tom Draper, and it is hoped that under his management the Navahoe may yet be a winner of English trophies.

Dancing Fete at the Casino.

The Casino theatre never presented a prettier sight than it did on Wednesday afternoon when the children of Prof. Foster's dancing class assembled for their annual fete. The ballroom was decked with flags of all nations arranged in a variety of ways and lighting up with their bright coloring the white and gold decorations. The entertainment was given under the patronage of Mrs. Archibald Rogers, Mrs. Lorillard Spencer, Mrs. James Stillman, Mrs. Hugh L. Willoughby, Mrs. Louis Jones, Mrs. Lyman Josephs, Mrs. William Grosvenor, Mrs. Hugo Frischoff, and Mrs. Cornelius Lee and was participated in by about thirty children. The programme contained a number of very pretty dances and marches and while the children were still on the floor, a button in the wall was pressed and showers of tiny paper circles of all colors fell from the ceiling. Dancing was for a time forgotten in the delight of gathering these papers by handfuls and "snowballing" each other. When weary of this sport refreshments were served and the dancing of the ladies brought the entertainment to a close.

Endowment Order Fund.

There is over $3,000,000 lying in the State Treasury awaiting distribution among certificate holders of the defunct endowment orders. The receivers have found no end of trouble in settling up the affairs of the Orders, owing to intricate legal difficulties and the wretched condition of the books of most of the Orders.

In order to facilitate a settlement the Supreme Court proposes to take an active stand in the matter, and to that end Hon. E. C. Bumpus has been appointed a special master to examine the several Orders, confer with the receivers and to report a plan for an immediate dividend.

Mr. Smith Clift, of New York, who has been one of Newport's summer residents for a number of years, and who this season was occupying the Royal Phelps Carroll cottage on Clay street, died at that place on Tuesday morning. He was stricken with paralysis on Monday, this being the second attack, the first having occurred in New York. Mr. Clift was a lawyer of considerable wealth. He leaves two daughters, Miss Clift, who was with her father at the time of his death, and Baroness De VanDuel of Paris, who is abroad. Funeral services were held at Trinity church yesterday afternoon, after which the remains were taken to New York for interment.

Marquis de Croisic and the Hungarian Band have severed their connections with each other, owing to a difference of opinion as to the latter's pay and privileges. Prof. Henry's "Bostonians" have been engaged to play at Hotel de Logerol for the remainder of the season.

Samuel Cooper, who was arrested for stealing at the Golf Club grounds, was arraigned before Judge Baker on Thursday on two charges of larceny. He was proven guilty and sentenced to ninety days in the Providence County Jail on each charge with costs.

The ball given at Eastbourne Lodge on Tuesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. W. Fitzguth Whitehouse, to introduce their daughter into society, was the social event of the week. The decorations of the house and grounds were magnificent, and the English custom of serving supper during the entire evening was an innovation that found much favor with the guests. The cotillion was danced by sixty couples and was led by Mr. Worthington Whitehouse of New York and the debutante. The favors consisted of fans, baskets, ribbons and large bunches of artificial hydrangeas.

The Casino dances this week have been unusually gay. More dancing people than usual have attended and, while the floor has been well covered with the followers of Versailles, at times they were too numerous for comfort. The morning concerts at this resort have also been well patronized this week, notwithstanding the fact that the yacht races proved a counter-attraction to many.

Mrs. Van Rensselaer and Mrs. William Post entertained at dinner Thursday evening.

GLIMPSES FROM HISTORY.

Presented by JAMES C. SWAN.

New Nebuzaradan set Gedaliah over the Jews that were left in Judea, which Gedaliah was a Bethel steward slain by Ishmael; and how Nebuzaradan, after Ishmael's death, drove away, went down into Egypt with the people; whilst people Nebuchadnezzar, when he had made a Expedition against the Egyptians, took captive, and brought them away to Babylon.

Now the general of the army, Nebuzaradan, when he had carried the people of the Jews into captivity, left the poor and those that had deserted in the country, and made one whose name was Gedaliah, the son of Ahikam, a person of a noble family, their governor, which Gedaliah was of a gentle and righteous disposition. He also commanded them that they should cultivate the ground, and pay an appointed tribute to the king; but the prophet, who was Gedaliah's friend, told him that he would gladly live in the ruins of his country, and in the miserable remains of it. When the general understood what his purpose was, he rejoined Gedaliah whom he left behind, to take all possible care of him, and to supply him with whatever he wanted; so when he had given him rich presents he dismissed him. According to Jeremiah's advice in a city of that country which was called Mizpah, and which was the king of the Ammonites, and who was a disciple of Baruch, the son of Neriah, one of a very eminent family, and exceeding skilful in the language of his country.

When Nebuzaradan had done this, he made haste to Babylon; but as to those that fled away during the siege of Jerusalem, and had been scattered over the country, when they did that the Babylonians were gone away, and had left a remnant in the land of Jerusalem, and those such as were to cultivate the same, they came together from all parts to Gedaliah at Mizpah. Now the rulers that were over them were Johanan, the son of Kareah, and Jehanish and Seraiah, and others beside them. Now there was of the royal family one Ishmael, a wicked man and very crafty, who, during the siege of Jerusalem, had been the king of the Ammonites, and abode with him during that time; and Gedaliah persuaded them, now that they were there, to stay with him, and to have no fear of the Babylonians, for that if they would cultivate the country they should suffer no harm. This he assured them of by oath, and said that they should have him for their patron, and that if any did that he should avenge it on them. He also advised them to dwell in any city, as every one of them pleased; and that they would send men along with his own servants, and rebuild their houses upon the old foundations and dwell there, and he admonished them beforehand that they should make preparation, while the season lasted, of corn, and wine, and oil, that they might have whereon to feed during the winter; which he had said and dismissed to them, he dismissed them, that every one might dwell in what place of the country he pleased.

Now when this report was spread abroad as far as the nations that bordered on Judea, that Gedaliah kindly entertained those that came to him, after they had fled away, upon this (only) condition, that they should pay tribute to the King of Babylon, they all came ready to do so; and inhabited the country. And when Johanan, and the rulers that were with him observed the country and the humanity of Gedaliah, they were exceedingly in love with him, and told him that Baalis, the king of the Ammonites, had sent Ishmael to kill him by treachery and secretly, that he might have the dominion over the Israelites, as being the king of the Jews; and that he might be able to defend himself from the treacherous design if he would give them leave to slay Ishmael, and nobody should know it; for they told him they were afraid that, when he was killed by the other, the entire ruin of the remaining strength of the Israelites would ensue; but he professed that "he did not believe what they said, when they told him of such a treacherous design in a man that was so well treated by him, because it was not probable that one who, under such a want of all things, had failed of nothing that was necessary for him, should be found so wicked and ungrateful towards his benefactor, that when it would be an instance of wickedness in him not to save him, had he been treacherously assaulted by others, to endeavor, and that earnestly, to kill him; and that he should not, however, if he ought to give this information to be true, it was better for himself to be slain by the other, than to destroy a man who had fled to him for refuge, and entrusted his own safety to him and committed himself to his disposal."

So Johanan and the rulers that were with him, not being able to persuade Gedaliah, went away; but after the interval of thirty days was over, Ishmael came again to Gedaliah, to the city of Mizpah, and took men with him; and when he had reached Ishmael and those that were with him in a splendid manner at his table, and had given them presents, he became disordered in drink, while he endeavored to be very merry with them; and when Ishmael saw him in that case, and that he was drowned in his cups to the degree of insensibility, and had fallen asleep, rose up in a sudden, with his ten friends, and slew Gedaliah and those that were with him at the feast; and when he had slain them, he went out by night and slew all the Jews that were in the city, and those soldiers also which were left therein by the Babylonians; but the next day fourscore men came out of the country, with presents to Gedaliah, none of them knowing what had befallen him; when Ishmael came to them, he invited them into Gedaliah's hall, and when they were come in, he shut up the court and slew them, and cast their bodies down into a certain deep pit, that they might not be seen; but of those fourscore men Ishmael spared those that entreated him not to kill them, all they had delivered up to him, riches, flocks and camels in the fields; consisting of their furniture and garments and corn; but he took captive the people that were in Mizpah, with their wives and children, among whom were the daughters of King Zedekiah, whom Nebuzaradan, the general of the army of Babylonians, had left with Gedaliah; And when he had done this, he came to the king of the Ammonites.

But when Johanan and the rulers with him heard of what was done at Mizpah by Ishmael, and the death of Gedaliah, they had indignation at it and every one of them took his own arms and came suddenly to fight with Ishmael, and overtook him at the fountain of Hebron and when those that were carried away captives by Ishmael saw Johanan and the rulers, they were very glad, and looked upon them as coming to their assistance; so they left him that had carried them captives and came over to Johanan; then Ishmael with eight men, fled to the king of the Ammonites; but Johanan took those whom he had rescued out of the hands of Ishmael, and the eunuchs, and their wives and children, and came to a certain place called Mandra, and there they abode that day, for they had determined to remove from thence and go into Egypt, out of fear lest the Babylonians should slay them, in case they continued in the country, and that out of anger at the slaughter of Gedaliah, who had by them set over it for governor.

Riot in North Abington.

At North Abington, Mass., the Electric Railroad Company, having been granted the right to lay their tracks with certain portions crossing the railroad tracks of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Co., proceeded to lay those portions this week. The Railroad Company undertook to tear them up as fast as laid and quite a lively time ensued. Rocks were thrown and shovels and pickaxes freely used until finally the fire department was called out and the water turned on the Railroad Company's men. This checked them for a while, but they succeeded in cutting the hose and breaking the nozzles, after which they resumed hostilities with renewed vigor. Chief Wade and a posse of state officers had to be sent for from Boston before peace could be established and the Electric Company allowed to go on with their work. During the riot about 20 persons were more or less injured, two receiving bullet wounds.

The North Abington Electric Road is the one over which Mr. Homer Walcott and Mr. Benj. N. Lake, both formerly of this city, are Superintendent and Assistant Superintendent, and some of the ex-employees of the Newport road are employed there. None of them, so far as known, are among the injured.

O. Beach, Mr. W. W. Wats Sherman, Mr. Nathaniel Thayer, Mr. Eugene V. R. Thayer, Mr. Eugene Higgins, Mr. Stanley Mortimer, Mr. August Belmont and Mr. Prescott Lawrence—twelve in number—will be in line and the spectacle will be a most imposing one. The meeting will take place in an open lot on Bellevue avenue, from which place it will proceed to the Golf Club grounds, where lunch will be served by Caterer Bussell of the Casino in tents erected for the purpose by Col. A. C. Lander.

Thursday evening the Newport Courts of Foresters made a grand street parade, headed by the Newport Band, after which a collation was served in their hall and a social session was in order. Music and solo dancing by members of the Order was followed by stump speeches, etc., and a good time was enjoyed by all. Yesterday the Foresters had a field day at Rocky Point, which was largely attended and much enjoyed.

Yesterday's race was over a triangular course of ten miles to each leg, with the point of starting and finishing the same as on Thursday. Only three of the great sloops started, the Vigilant, Jubilee and Colonia, and they crossed the line in the order named at a few minutes past 11 o'clock. The wind was light throughout the day, and neither craft had finished at the time of going to press.

Police Officer Wm. H. Wilcox, who has the Thames street beat, is going to the World's Fair and at the expense of the business men who take that way of expressing their appreciation of the efficient manner in which he has performed his trying duties. Mr. Wilcox is an excellent officer and in every way deserving of the compliment thus paid him.

Simoon Hazard has rented to Mr. Charles H. West for the owner P. Buckley, the upper half of the "Shaw" House, 12 Spring street.

Gasoline Stoves.

Knowledge is Power.

That there is not a Jewel Naphtha stove in every house is due to the fact that people are not acquainted with its merits. I claim that with this stove:

You can cook better than with coal. It saves the annoyance of heat during the warm weather, the handling of coal and ashes. There is no odor or smoke. You burn gas not a liquid. It saves at least half the usual time in cooking. It is neat and convenient and a child who can turn a faucet or light a lamp can use it. It is positively safe. The tank is movable and is taken from the room when the stove is to be filled, and when the tank is removed the fire is out. No explosion, nothing to explode. Now listen to my proposition: I place one of these stoves in your house, show the user how to operate it, and leave it on one week's trial; if not as represented no sale. Ladies cooking for the Exchange should not fail to try one.
